

Ashley Muramoto
Marketing & Communications Director

At Denver Public Schools Foundation, we believe that our city is strengthened by every student who graduates ready to lead a successful life. At the DPS Foundation, we invest in accelerating progress, we connect the community to our classrooms, and we inspire confidence in the promise of public education.

Ashley Muramoto came to the DPS Foundation in 2015. Today she serves as the Marketing & Communications Director for DPS Foundation. In this role, Ashley serves as chief impact articulator, creating powerful messaging and materials targeted to help the community understand the deep need for their support and the tangible and ongoing outcomes of their investment in DPS. She works to conceptualize, strategize and implement the DPS Foundation's fundraising campaigns and events. Ashley's favorite part of her job is getting to build firsthand relationships with students and assessing how to leverage resources and opportunities to ensure all students have a quality education.

Prior to joining the DPS Foundation, Ashley worked as the Email Marketing Manager for a financial and insurance marketing agency, where she managed all internal and external marketing efforts, initiated the launch and creation of a new self-service email marketing platform to create additional sales revenue, managed the design team, and oversaw the company's website redesign.

We know that when our students thrive, our city thrives. I believe in our mission because I believe that children are the future leaders of our country and every student deserves the opportunity to receive a quality education.
