

Maia Parkin, Communications Intern

At Denver Public Schools Foundation, we believe that our city is strengthened by every student who graduates ready to lead a successful life. At the DPS Foundation, we invest in accelerating progress, we connect the community to our classrooms, and we inspire confidence in the promise of public education.

Maia Parkin is the Communications Intern for the Denver Public Schools Foundation, having joined the team in August 2023. In this role, Maia hopes to support the community mission of the DPS Foundation. As the communications intern, Maia helps build upon DPS Foundation's social media strategy and works to implement new channels. She serves as an ambassador for the foundation and supports students, educators, and parents by amplifying their voices.

Maia is a senior at the University of Colorado Boulder studying English, political science, and education. She has worked as a practicum teacher in Boulder Valley School District for almost two years and is excited to bring her experience in classrooms to an education focused nonprofit organization. Maia has led projects in CU's School of Education to bring diversity, equity, and inclusion to its forefront, including advocating for a wider support network for pre-service teachers locally and through the Colorado state government. She is thrilled to join a team that amplifies DPS teachers, families, and student voices.

We know that when our students thrive, our city thrives. I believe in the mission of the DPS Foundation because every child deserves a quality education that is able to make space for big dreams, community involvement, and steadfast support.
