

Patsy Landaveri
Community Impact Leader

Patsy Landaveri is an adaptive and agile leader that executes integrated and targeted outreach strategies (communications and branding, social investment, and employee engagement) creating measurable results in disruptive and unpredictable environments. As a bicultural leader, she prioritizes the power of diversity leading to the intentional makeup of inclusive teams and creates diverse stakeholder support in an authentic and unique way.

Until recently, Patsy Landaveri managed Noble Energy's external affairs and communications activities in Colorado. She was responsible for cultivating stakeholder relationships with charitable organizations, local and state governments, the business community, and trade associations building strong bridges with a diversity of organizations to connect Noble to the community. Patsy led the company's efforts in public education and communications regarding oil and gas development in the state. Under Patsy's leadership Noble built meaningful and authentic relationships in the community and earned recognition by several organizations including Colorado Business Committee for the Arts, National Philanthropy Day, Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, Volunteers of Outdoor Colorado amongst others. Patsy has fourteen years of experience in the energy industry. Prior to Noble, she managed member relations for Tri-State Generation and Transmission, a power supplier in the western US.

Patsy has a Bachelor in Economics from the University of Kentucky and a Masters in Global Energy Management from the University of Colorado in Denver. She recently obtained a Graduate Certificate at the University of Denver in Communications Management with a focus on digital communications. Patsy is a graduate of the Governor's Fellowship Program and the Denver Metro Chamber's Leadership Denver Class of 2017.

Patsy was named Top Women in Energy by the Denver Business Journal in 2017. She is a member of the Denver Public Schools Foundation Board, the Colorado Hispanic Chamber of Commerce Board and volunteers her time with many organizations across the state.

In her free time, Patsy enjoys hiking, backpacking and snowboarding. She has climbed eighteen Colorado 14ers. Patsy, a native of Peru, enjoys travelling and experiencing different cultures.