

Rebecca Reutlinger
Vice President of Development

At Denver Public Schools Foundation, we believe that our city is strengthened by every student who graduates ready to lead a successful life. At the DPS Foundation, we invest in accelerating progress, we connect the community to our classrooms, and we inspire confidence in the promise of public education.

Rebecca serves as the Vice President of Development and joined the DPS Foundation in April 2018. She is responsible for leading the organization in raising its annual unrestricted fundraising goals through managing individual and corporate donor relationships, the annual campaign and the Achieve Gala.

Prior to joining the team at the DPS Foundation, Rebecca worked for over six years at National Jewish Health in both the Denver and Washington, D.C. regional office and served in a variety of fundraising and special event roles during that time. Rebecca has worked for non-profits her entire career and brings a strong mission-driven focus to implementing successful fundraising initiatives to the organization.

Rebecca earned a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Marketing from Pace University and a Master of Business Administration degree from Quinnipiac University. She also graduated in 2018 from the Institute for Leaders in Development program at the University of Denver. In her free time, Rebecca volunteers on the Associate Board for Girls on the Run of the Rockies and enjoys trail running, triathlon racing, and exploring Colorado.

Rebecca's favorite part of her job is the opportunity to share with and connect the community directly to the important work the foundation is leading to help ensure every student succeeds.

We know that when our students thrive, our city thrives. I strongly believe in the mission of DPS Foundation because every child deserves the opportunity to have a quality education and create a path to a great future.