

Jon Roitman

Senior Vice President, Airport and Catering Operations, United Airlines

Jon Roitman is senior vice president of airport and catering operations for United. In this role, Jon oversees United's worldwide airport operations, including on-time performance, customer service, ramp and catering operations. Prior to assuming this role, Jon served as vice president of the Newark hub, overseeing the entire operation for both the Newark and Cleveland hubs. Jon joined Continental Airlines in 1997 as director of design and construction in the corporate real estate group, and subsequently held positions of increasing responsibility, including airport regional managing director and staff vice president of the Cleveland hub. Before joining Continental, Jon was the manager of business development for BWAB Incorporated, a real estate development and oil and gas production firm located in Denver, Colorado. Jon served in the U.S. Army from 1984 to 1992 and resigned from active duty as a field artillery captain. He holds a bachelor's degree in engineering from West Point and a Master of Business in real estate construction management from the University of Denver.

